

ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY

A close-up photograph of a person's hand gently holding a small green plant with several leaves. The background is a soft-focus natural setting with green foliage and a hint of blue water or sky.

We are committed to the protection of the environment and shall apply industry best practices as appropriate to stop the generation of emissions of dangerous gases, spilling of oil, waste or any substance that can be injurious to the environment throughout our operations. Where product spillage is inevitable, such spillage will be planned and controlled.

Efforts shall be made towards reducing noise and fumes generated during operations. Every employee of AHAVA Energy Services Limited is expected to live and operate in a healthy and conducive environment both at home and at work and must comply with the statutory requirement of Federal Environmental Protection Agency (FEPA).
